

Kay Griep
Vice President, Treasury Product Manager
Global Transaction Services

Treasury product manager for the Digital Disbursements and Global Digital Disbursements suite of services within Global Transaction Services (GTS) at Bank of America Merrill Lynch. As product manager for this award winning B2C payments solution, is responsible for product management and strategy development, including product features and functionality.

Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting from Appalachian State University in Boone, NC

Certified Public Accountant with over 23 years' experience with Bank of America in Accounts Payable, Project Management, Check and Digital Disbursements Product Management.