

Libby Coley

Organizational Change Management Lead, Office of the State Controller

Libby is a seasoned IT professional with a vast amount of experience in Project Management and Organizational Change Management. The bulk of her experience comes from Manufacturing Automation and ERP System Implementations. Since working for the State of North Carolina, she has been instrumental in the oversight and intricacies of stakeholder engagement and readiness for the several large IT implementations. Her 1st assignment with the State was at OSC as the Change Management Lead for the HR/Payroll System which was referred to as BEACON at launch. Her current assignment is the Organizational Change Management Lead for the transition and sustainment of ~4000 financial staff across the State of NC to the new NC Financial Accounting System (Oracle Cloud Based).

She has worked for top companies such as Intel Corporation and Dupont de Nemours & Company for over 20 years and is a certified Project Management Professional (PMP). Libby is a Wolf-Packer at heart with degrees in Electrical Engineering, Computer Engineering, and Integrated Manufacturing Systems Engineering all from North Carolina State University. She and her husband love to travel all over the world and experience new cultures.
