

Bio

Taylor Brumeloe has served the NC Office of the State Controller since 2015. She has served in her current role as Deputy State Controller of the NCFS Division since January 2024. She previously served as the NCFS Functional Manager from January 2021 to January 2024 where she managed the functional support staff for the State's primary accounting and cash management systems – NCAS and NCFS. Prior to that, she served as the Central Compliance Manager at OSC where she managed various statewide programs such as eCommerce, Cash Management, Federal reporting and Accounts Receivable reporting. Taylor worked in the private industry for 8 years and began her State Government career serving in eCommerce and Cash Management roles for 5 years in the NC State University Controller's Office. Taylor has a Bachelor of Science in Finance from Western Carolina University.